

We know what it is to deliver a service beyond our customer's expectations. We also know that chasing money owing to a business can be an unnecessary and costly distraction that can cut into management time and resources that would be better employed elsewhere. We take the strain out of debt recovery.

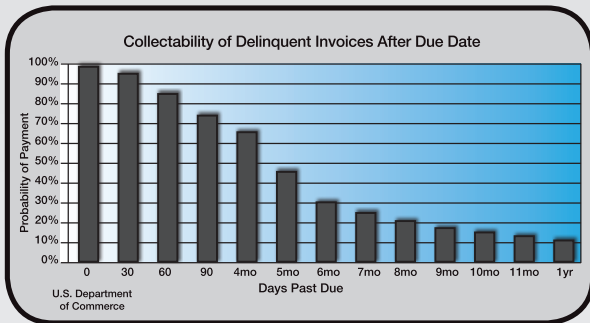

"...efficient and courteous with our staff and with the accounts listed... confidently recommended..."

Why Use Wiggins Adjustments?

1. Consumers or Companies that are experiencing financial difficulties will generally prioritize their creditors for payments. Creditors who are capable of demonstrating the seriousness of non-payment will generally get paid first. By using Wiggins to collect on your behalf ensures that your customer will most likely resolve your bill first.
2. Along with our well-trained and professional staff, our management is involved in the collection process on a daily basis, continually monitoring and auditing the accounts that are entrusted to us.
3. Persistence and performance using the most advanced techniques; such as SMS messaging, and the use of Artificial Intelligence, help us work the account in the most effective manner using Chatbot's and robot dialers. Everything we can possibly use to ensure that communication is available at any time. But the most important thing is our time tested human interactions; our negotiation tactics that are proven and have consistently exceeded industry standards.
